

Mr. DeLoss represents behavioral health care providers, health information technology vendors, federally qualified health centers, hospitals and research organizations, as well as industry trade and professional associations. Mr. DeLoss has extensive knowledge of HIPAA, state and federal regulations governing behavioral health information privacy, particularly in the area of 42 CFR Part 2 federal regulations governing the confidentiality of substance use disorder patient records) and mental health confidentiality.

Mr. DeLoss has assisted behavioral health care providers with the implementation and effective utilization of the federal Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act in managed care contracting and reimbursement disputes. He is also well-versed in state Parity laws that prevent unequal provision of benefits and services for those suffering with mental health and substance use disorders as compared to those with medical/surgical conditions.

He has authored several books and articles on behavioral health, Parity, health information privacy and security, and compliance. He has presented nationally and internationally on health law matters. Mr. DeLoss obtained his Juris Doctor, with distinction, from the University of North Dakota School of Law. He has practiced law in Illinois, Maine, Minnesota, North Dakota, and South Carolina and represented clients before federal agencies in Washington, DC.